Obituary

Joyce was born October 23, 1941 in Oak Grove, Louisiana to Mary Rosby-Myles and Matha Myles and reared in Chicago, Illinois. She was the older of two children born to that union.

Joyce was educated in the Cook County Public Schools of Chicago, where she was an excellent student who knew from an early age that she wanted to become a teacher. She received a Bachelor of Science in Education at Chicago State University. She continued her education at Nova University, from which she received her Masters in Education. Upon moving to Florida, she met and married Henry Moore, Jr. From that union was born a son, Fritz "Mike" Moore.

Joyce was employed as a teacher and as an assistant principal in the Broward County School System for 30 plus years where she worked until her retirement.

Joyce was an avid reader, loved traveling and her greatest pleasure was spending time with her granddaughter Amanda.

She was an active member of St. George's Catholic Church and its choir until its closing in the year of 2009. She then became a member of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Catholic Church where she was a strong believer in her faith.

Joyce was also a very proud member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Joyce departed this life on Wednesday, April 21, 2010.
