

I'm resting in the arms of Jesus, free from suffering and pain
I'm resting in the arms of Jesus, joy and peace attained.
Time will bring a glad reunion on God's celestial shore. For there we'll find our Father, waiting at heaven's door.
Thank you all for coming out to say good bye to my body, for my soul is saying hello to the Lord & to my Mom.

Love to All See you in Heaven
Stephanie Terry

Expression of Gratitude

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.

*Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
if so, we saw it there.*

Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.

*Perhaps you were not there at all,
just thought of us this day.*

*Whatever you did, whatever the part,
we thank you for consoling our hearts.*

An Angel Went Home Today

*An Angel went home today
Her time with us was so brief, with out opportunity to discover true love, marriage, motherhood, or family How could this be fair? How could He allow this? She was young with inspiring dreams. Her wings had spread joy and life to family, friends, and neighbors.
But our Angel went home today.
Like Job, we are angry. Like Job, we remain faithful Faithful to understand that the journey does not end after our last breath
Our Angel now walks in hand with her Mother, Brother and Ancestors.
From His Kingdom she smiles for there is no more hurt, sorrow, heart ache, and pain
Be sad today but rejoice tomorrow for her spirit has not perished. It manifests and thrives in us providing comfort and encouragement.
Yes... Our Angel went home today.
But her journey continues in each of you....*
